surrounding districts to re-create the story of Jumping Mouse. In this Native American tale, a little mouse leaves the security of her home and friends to find the source of a rushing sound she can hear. When she finds the river, which is the source of the sound, she is inspired by a frog to travel even further afield. On her journey, she meets a number of different creatures and through her acts of kindness, the animals in their turn are able to help her reach her goal. Finally, she finds herself transformed from mouse into eagle, and as she soars in the sky she sees life in a new way.

The production, by the drama group aged 7–11 years and directed by Jo-anne Sarre, was an intricate mix of narration, singing and superb acting, with music in native American tones by Paul Cleaver and Morgan Taubert. It was a wonderful performance!

Hello to you and 'hello' to the lovely spring weather we are enjoying as I write this. Welcome again to this space; and to those of you who are reading this in the ever improving Nairne News, a special welcome - and my encouragement to you to have your say. Please consider sharing your news and stories with us and perhaps joining NDRA to strengthen your voice and ours in supporting our town. One suggestion recently has been that we might like to share a festive season lunch or dinner at Chingari or Zigi Zaga. Sounds good to me, so please let us know if you are interested: ndra@live.com.au or phone myself on 8388 0105.

This month NDRA has been especially proactive in providing a community voice – via the Meet the Candidates meeting on October 20 at the school. Many thanks to Simon Martin, Cathy Smallridge and Clive Pay for planning, organising and setting up this event, and to Jo-anne Sarre and Therese Okkerse for their help on the night. Three Mayoral candidates and eight contenders for North Ward Councillor positions told us of their backgrounds, aspirations as councillors and emphases for representing North Ward. One existing councillor was unavoidably detained elsewhere. For those who were not able to get to the meeting but would like to 'meet the candidates', see pages 5–7 of this issue for their profiles and the link to information online.

I really do hope that we can be proactive in selecting a strong voice for Nairne in local government, which is our immediate link to the bigger picture. Issues identified on the night as of special importance to Nairne included traffic management, especially the Woodside Road/Princes Highway intersection; a greater share of the capital spending for Nairne; the future of the old railway buildings; and plans for the use of land and building in Nairne.

Other news – NDRA has applied to the Volunteer Support Fund for a computer for Nairne News and other NDRA business – we are awaiting the outcome of this; Cathy was successful in obtaining a 'Publisher' package to assist with production of the Nairne News and has established a committee for working on this. Thanks to Cathy, Cheryl Bawhey and Jo Parkinson for their continued contributions. Jo's proofreading skills are amazing. If you need proofreading services, she has now started her own proofreading business (ph 0408 424 130).

The Department of Environment and Heritage Community Action grants are open at the moment for those of you who may be interested in pursuing this. Applications close 19 November 2010. See <http://www.nrm.gov.au/publications/factsheets/cag-2010-11-factsheet.html>

And last, but by no means least, the fantastic new Nairne website which Richard Hirstle has kindly developed: <http://www.nairne.org.au/>. This provides a great opportunity to share information more widely and I'm sure you'll enjoy the developments to date.

The carbon cost of producing this newsletter for one year has been estimated using the calculator on www.carbonneutral.com.au, and a payment has been made to offset estimated carbon emissions.

Celebrate at ZIGI ZAGA Restaurant !!

By Tania Windle

Zigi Zaga is an ideal place for Christmas, New Year, an anniversary, birthday or party. Celebrate in style and elegance at a venue not to be missed. This restaurant is the latest addition from Kamal Verma, offering fine food in the charming Adelaide Hills. BOOK NOW for your Christmas and New Year functions to avoid missing out, as places are filling fast. Zigi Zaga is located next to Kamal's much loved 'Chingari Restaurant: Divine Indian Cuisine' in the Main Street of Nairne, and is a very welcome addition to the Hills restaurant scene.

For those not familiar with Kamal's credentials, he has worked in numerous five star restaurants including Sheraton Essen and Frankfurt's Sheraton Zurich as well as Steigenberger Dusseldorf. Closer to home, Kamal was the executive chef for the Hyatt Adelaide until 2006 when he hung up his corporate apron and opened Chingari as a family owned and operated business.

Declaring 'fine European cuisine' Zigi Zaga certainly delivers on its promise, with dishes everyone has heard of but hasn't had the pleasure to experience. Classic dishes such as Lobster Thermidor, Crêpe Suzette, Chateaubriand, Duckling à l'orange, Beef Wellington and Bomb Alaska are on offer and all at unheard of prices. Generously portioned and exquisitely well presented meals compliment the experience, leaving patrons with a satisfied belly and purse.

The restaurant's décor is sophisticated and stylish, yet relaxed and comfortable – no pretences here. The seating arrangement is cosy and quiet with a number of seating options available, including intimate 2-seat tables in out-of-the-way rooms.

Kamal greets his customers during their dining which complements the friendly atmosphere and impeccable service by waiting staff.

As Kamal explained "We wanted to bring fine dining out (of the city) to the Hills people". To my delight he has chosen Nairne to do it. As a frequent patron of Chingari, I was thrilled to be invited to write an article for the Nairne News and, in the process, experience five star dining 5 minutes from home.

If Kamal made the 'Hills change' to live a simpler and quieter life, the popularity of Chingari's and now Zigi Zaga has put a hold on that. Both restaurants are busy throughout the week so bookings are recommended.

Opening hours for Zigi Zaga are lunch (11.30am to 3pm) Friday to Sunday. Dinner (from 5pm) Wednesday to Monday. Closed Tuesdays. 2 Leith Street Nairne.

Pre-election 'Meet the Candidates' forum well attended

A public forum to meet the candidates for the upcoming local elections for North Ward councillors and the mayor, was held on Wednesday 20th October at 7.30pm. The meeting was held in the Nairne Primary School Hall and nearly all candidates were able to attend. Each candidate was given 5 minutes to speak and then the audience were given time to question the candidate on their speech or to ask other questions. Five minutes is not a lot of time and each candidate approached it differently, which gave not only an insight into their views on matters affecting the district and Nairne, but also a glimpse of who they are as people. This became more evident when they were questioned for up to 5 minutes by the audience.

The evening was organised by the Nairne and Districts Residents Association, and was well attended by residents who asked many very relevant questions about what had and, more importantly, what had not been done in Nairne in the last 4 years. The candidates had been sent a briefing note before the evening so they were prepared to comment on the following –

- ◆ Do you want houses down to Bald Hills Road?
- ◆ Are you happy with the traffic arrangements near the primary school?
- ◆ Should Nairne push for a greater share of the council's capital works budget, eg for more footpaths?
- ◆ Should NDRA seek regular high level meetings with the council regarding matters affecting Nairne?

- ◆ Is pedestrian/cycle safety along North Road an issue?
- ◆ Do you want the old railway shed renovated?
- ◆ Should Woodside Road train crossing have boom gates?

At the end of the meeting the audience were asked by one of the NDRA volunteers to vote on the above points. This gave the candidates the chance to understand the views of the audience, especially those who had not asked questions. NDRA committee members took note of the voting patterns and will use this as the basis for a mandate to act upon in the next 4 years.

If you did not attend but would like to express your views please email NDRA@live.com.au or come to the next meeting on 17th November in the Nairne Institute.

Most importantly – DON'T FORGET TO VOTE – by November 12th, 2010. Every vote counts, especially when the number of votes received can be quite low. Sometimes as many as 200 votes can make a difference.

Mount Barker local elections—Mayoral candidates.

The community elects their Council Members every four (4) years. The next elections for all SA Councils will be held in November 2010. All Council elections are conducted using postal voting. Ballot papers were sent out by the Electoral Commissioner between Monday 25th and Friday 29th October 2010. Voting papers may also be reissued in person at the Customer Services Centre of the Council, at the Homemaker Centre, 6 Dutton Road, Mount Barker.

Ballot papers must be completed and returned to the Council's returning officer by 5pm on Friday 12 November 2010.

Brian Haddy

As your Mayor, I will be strongly pro-community, striving to make our towns and countryside better places to live and work and easier for small businesses to thrive. Retaining our semi-rural character, seeking better public transport and parking, enhancing our cultural and recreation facilities, developing more creative opportunities for the district's youth, and strongly promoting our agricultural products will be priorities. I also believe in transparent Council decision making and genuine public consultation. I have lived in Mt Barker since 1993 with my wife and family; worked in science, health and conservation community organisations; owned an organic store; been very involved in local sporting and community organisations; and been a passionate promoter of sustainable lifestyles. I believe we have a great opportunity to make us all proud of what this region has to offer, growing in a manageable way that enriches our way of life.

Ann Ferguson

Mayor 2006-2010. Councillor DC of Mount Barker 1991-2003. Chair Regional Development Aust, AH, F & KI 2009-present. Director Police Credit Union 1992-present. Life member Mt Barker Agricultural Society. Deputy Chair of Southern Hills Local Government Association (SHLGA). I have had the privilege and honour to be your representative of Council as Mayor for the past four years. I have been your ambassador at the Local level on Council, Regional level as Chair of RDA, and Deputy Chair of SHLGA, State level on Regional Community Consultative Council, Nationally and Internationally through RDA. We need to continue to consult with the ratepayer and consumers and encourage them, whenever possible, to be part of the decision making process. Sport Recreation, Art and Culture is a good insurance policy of our future health. We need good infrastructure and community services and an energetic approach to human needs. We are the jewel of the State.

Michael Bails

As an employed professional with a young family, a home and a mortgage, Michael Bails has a real understanding of all the challenges and the joys of living and raising a family in the District. With a proven track record of common-sense solutions and a fresh energetic approach to the business of Council, Michael's actions speak louder than words. In serving our District as Deputy Mayor for the last 3 years, Michael has demonstrated his ability to lead the Council and to advance the interests of our community in an engaging, respectful manner. His re-appointment as Deputy 3 years in a row, is a measure of his support and the respect of his peers. By electing Michael Bails as Mayor, you can be confident of an energetic leader and a hardworking advocate for your community. (see www.bails.net.au for details)

Some of the candidates have provided a more detailed statement under the "Candidates" tab at <http://www.lgcandidates.sa.gov.au/>

North Ward Councillors

Jeff Bettcher

Retired Director of Arts SA (the umbrella organisation to the North Terrace Cultural Institutions of the Art Gallery of SA, the SA Museum, the State Library and the History Trust of SA) responsible for the provision of financial, human resource, and building maintenance services to these organisations. Having recently built our retirement home in Hahndorf I wish to give something back to our community. An Adelaide Hills resident for 35 years, a qualified accountant (Fellow of the Society of Certified Practising Accountants) and holder of a business management degree, I have served on a Hills Hospital Board, the Board of Access Cabs, and have represented previous Ministers for the Arts on various arts boards. I do not have any political ambitions or business interest in the community. I seek only to assist the community in improving amenity and services.

Samantha Hardman

Having studied such subjects as Economics and Housing toward a Bachelor of Applied Science in Consumer Science at RMIT, I worked in Research and Development under Royal Warrant. I then managed investments and have spent the last four years working in the administration of charities and not-for-profit organisations including being on the Board of the Independent Arts Foundation, responsible for incoming funds and outgoing grants provided to aspiring Adelaide Artists, more recently with the setting up of the Adelaide Hills Carer Wellness Centre and its Committee this year. I greatly enjoy living and parenting in Littlehampton and am deeply committed to the residents and traders of this unique Hills district having their voice heard in this time of critical change, in order for the Council to make decisions reflecting our community's opinions. I am here to hear your concerns and dedicated to reaching resolution for you.

Simon Westwood

I am Simon Westwood, 47, married with four children. With the support of my family and friends in the Hahndorf community, I want to be your voice on our Council. I chose to live in Hahndorf, join the CFS, and be elected as the brigade President, spend time on the Community Association, and take an active interest in our town and our area. If successful, I will fight for sustainable, well-planned and, most importantly, sensitive development, which is supported by complementary growth in infrastructure, maintaining the lifestyle and character of Hahndorf and the district - the reasons we live here. I will lobby for a second pedestrian crossing on Main St, along with a heavy vehicle ring route around Hahndorf. I will strive to improve employment opportunities and State Government services for our area. Most of all, I will listen and do my best to answer questions put to me.

Andrew James Phillips

Living on 53 acres in Callington, I appreciate the rural lifestyle offered by the Mt Barker district and would support any efforts by Council to safeguard the quality of life we enjoy. I would like to see increased cooperation between local and state government to facilitate economic growth in the region, before any consideration to increase our population. I would also seek further representation by Council on behalf of North Ward residents on issues such as postal services for Nairne and outlying areas and increased transportation options. Personal details: born in the Murraylands in 1966, married with two sons and two daughters. Occupation: Retail store manager. (Studies in both Agriculture and International Business/Export).

North Ward Councillors

Lyn Stokes

I am a resident of Callington, an elected member of Council, actively involved with several community groups. It's become increasingly more attractive to live in the Hills; our journey to Adelaide is much easier because of the freeway and we now need another interchange to reduce traffic having to pass through the centre of Mt Barker. New development must be well designed and balanced as to not impose on its neighbours, at the same time giving consideration to the environment and heritage characteristics of the district. As a member of this community you are important, by electing local people to represent you in local government. Being available and willing to listen helps me to stay in touch and understand different views present in our community, this is valuable in decision making in council. I am seeking your support to continue that commitment.

Kathy Brazher-De Laine

I first visited the district 23 years ago. Eight months later I moved to Mt Barker from Sydney. Moving to Mt Barker was an easy decision; I was looking for somewhere to raise my family. We lived in Mt Barker for eight years before buying a 50 acre property near Dawesley, where we still reside. My children went to local Hills schools, where they learnt that they were part of a close-knit community and that they had a responsibility to that community, a view that I strongly agree with. I work for a national retailer and hold the position of General Merchandise Manager in the Mt Barker store. I am currently an Elected Member of Council and would like you to give me the privilege to continue to represent you in this position. I hope to keep representing our community and thank you for your support.

Trevor Corbell

A retired senior Federal government advisor and an advocacy officer for a not-for-profit diabetes support organisation, in 2006 I came home to SA to live in Nairne. Active in a number of local issues, on a personal level I've pursued with the Mt Barker Council continuing safety problems at the Woodside Rd/Prince's Hwy junction in Nairne and the saving of the historic Nairne Railway Station stone goods store. I have prepared submissions on the 30-Year Plan, the now cancelled Paddy's Hill mobile phone tower and the proposed Bald Hills Rd freeway interchange. I am a member of the Nairne & Districts Residents Association and a JP. I'd like to contribute more to the community, both urban and rural, in which I now live. I understand how the 'processes' work and, as a North Ward councillor, would be an energetic and effective link between you and Council.

David Skey

Over the years many people from the community have approached me about running for council. After a lot of consideration, I have decided to nominate for the upcoming election. I have lived in the Nairne area for over 30 years and have been actively involved in the community. If elected, I will strive to ensure the council makes sound choices that reflects what the community wants, and endeavour to make it a better place to live. My aim is to improve our environment and ensure the wider community has a fair input in the decision making process. I will make myself available to listen to your concerns and attempt to provide reasonable solutions. I am a small business operator and understand the importance of supporting the local business.

HOW CAN BUYING RAFFLE TICKETS HELP FIGHT URBAN SPRAWL?

URBAN SPRAWL IN MT BARKER

Many of you will be aware of the Mt Barker growth issue, with government plans for expanding Mt Barker's population by another 30,000 (an increase from 12,000 to 42,000) in the next 15 years, and the rezoning of high-quality farming land to build houses on. Despite an unprecedented 500+ individual submissions opposing the Government's plans and a record five public meetings where the community voiced their concerns, Minister Holloway has indicated that the Government does not intend to let the citizens of Mt Barker stand in the way of development!

AND ELSEWHERE

Similar situations are occurring in Gawler, the Barossa Valley and the Southern Vales. This is not just a local issue but is relevant to all South Australians because it goes to the heart of the type of planning system and democracy we want. Lack of community consultation seems to be a hallmark of the current State government.

There are impacts on water and food security - do we want new development that is totally reliant on the River Murray, and the loss of prime food producing areas close to Adelaide markets? Do we want the irreversible loss of Adelaide's beautiful and productive surrounds? What type of city do we want - endless urban sprawl with carbon costs from commuting or a livable and sustainable city? Is there a role for councils if they can't help plan for their own backyard?

COMMUNITY OPPOSITION – GROWING DAILY

Stop Urban Sprawl (SUS), with support from community groups including the Mt Barker & District Residents Association and the Mayo Greens, is a group that is fighting this move.

SUS want sustainable and fairer planning outcomes across South Australia. Our walk and rally on October 30/31 was just the beginning. All we need to continue the fight are helpers and some funding.

RAFFLE TICKETS + YOU = FUNDING

We have a great raffle which will be drawn, hopefully by the new mayor, on Sunday November 14th at our Mt Barker Drive'n'Jive event at Wistow Hall at 1 pm, where we will have music by the fabulous Fiddle Chicks, food and wine. To see the threatened farmlands for yourself, join us at Wallis Cinema car park in Mount Barker at 11.30am on November 14th for a tour.

To buy tickets, see our website: www.stopurbansprawl.net for details of the events, our fantastic raffle prizes, which include paintings by renowned local artists, wine and other goodies; and merchandise - SUS have stickers, T-shirts and corflute signs for sale. LIONS CAROLS BY THE LAKE

BYTHORNE PARK, WOODSIDE ROAD

Friday, December 3, 2010, 6.00pm to 10.00pm

Are you organised?

Lions Club of Nairne & Districts are well on the way to getting this extravaganza happening.

We have had a great response from local business, Mt Barker Council and many community groups. All we need is some perfect weather! And your attendance for a great family event.

NAIRNE RAILWAY STATION

With the onset of spring weather, you may have noticed a general clean up, grass cutting / slashing of the surrounds to the station area. External painting of the building is foremost in our minds at this time of year and will be attended to over time.

However, we are being hampered in our endeavours to upgrade the station area due to vandalism and graffiti. We ask all residents to keep a look out for wayward individuals with nothing else to do and be law abiding in stopping them!

COMMUNITY SERVICE

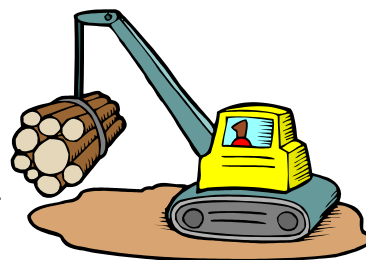

Lions are once again proud to be associated with the Callington Show (Sunday, October 31, 2010) - please support the Callington community with their upcoming show.

Any unwanted spectacles and hearing aids may be left at our recycling shed in the main street. They are sorted and distributed to the needy in third world countries, benefitting many.

We gratefully accept all paper, cardboard and bottles for our recycling project. Please deposit items at our depot in the main street. Help us support the various community groups within our district.

Art classes for all!

Weaverworks Art Emporium, located on Dutton Road, Mt Barker (just before the Homemaker Centre and opposite the Steamranger yards) stocks quality and professional artist supplies and offers a range of art classes for adults, youth and children.

Specialist workshops, such as mosaics and textile art, are scheduled throughout the term, with a variety of great art activities and workshops scheduled during the school holidays.

Resident artist Gary Tonge Latimer is a master of his work and a tutor who encourages and inspires beginners through to experienced artists.

In our regular classes, children over 10 are given the opportunity to understand and try a variety of techniques and methods used by many of the old masters. Our young children's art tutor Jemara encourages 7 – 10 year olds using different mediums as they are introduced to the world of art through the pleasure of creating their own pieces of work in a variety of techniques.

Our art teachers have been carefully selected to ensure students receive the best attention from people who love to share their love of art.

Supported by our tag line 'a place of inspiration', the Weaverworks Art Emporium mission is to inspire and engage all people interested in arts. The environment is warm, friendly and welcoming.

Don't underestimate the pleasure that can be achieved from expressing yourself through art. Check the website at www.weaverworks.com.au or contact us on 8391 4806 for details about classes, workshops or special group bookings.

Health and Vitality

Risks and benefits of sun exposure

A balance is required between avoiding an increase in the risk of skin cancer by excessive sun exposure, and achieving enough sun exposure to maintain adequate vitamin D levels. For most people, sun protection to prevent skin cancer is required when the UV index is moderate or above (ie UV index is 3 or higher). Most people probably achieve adequate vitamin D levels through the UVB exposure they receive during typical day-to-day outdoor activities. For example, it has been estimated that fair skinned people can achieve adequate vitamin D levels in summer by exposing the face, arms and hands to a few minutes of sunlight on either side of the peak UV periods on most days of the week. In winter in South Australia, maintenance of vitamin D levels may require 2–3 hours of sunlight exposure to a similar area of skin over a week. Local winery achieves distinction

A tasting panel has voted Adelaide Hills' Howard Vineyard a stand out in Australia in an article in the Wine Industry Journal, July/August Edition 2010. The feature, including submissions from Cabernet Franc producers across Australia, details the suitability of Cabernet Franc to the Australian climate. The panel included independent wine industry strategist Mark Swann, University of Adelaide oenology & sensory studies lecturer Sue Bastian, and Wine Research Institute viticulture consultant Peter Dry, and they unanimously gave the Amos Cabernet Franc gold medal worthy scores, highlighting the richness of fruit flavours and varietal characters, with good use of oak and soft, structured tannins.

Howard Vineyard, located at Nairne in the Adelaide Hills, draws fruit from the Howard Vineyard site and the Schoenthal Vineyard site at Lobethal. As one of the largest independent producers in the Adelaide Hills, Howard Vineyard is known for its award winning wines, and now its Cabernet Franc. In 2010, Howard Vineyard will have four Cabernet Franc wines: a Clover Leaf label Cabernet Franc and Clover Leaf Cabernet Franc Rosé, an Amos Cabernet Franc and drier style Amos Cabernet Franc Rosé. Spirituality Celebrating

The “Spirituality in the Pub” evening on Tuesday 2 November marks, not just the last event for 2010 and the coming of the joyful Christmas season, but the 10th birthday for the program. Over the years it has moved from a number of sites before settling at the Hahndorf Old Mill.

The ‘party’ on November 2 (Melbourne Cup Night) seems to justify a theme like “Life’s a Spiritual Celebration”. Presenters on this occasion will be Jennifer Semzcuk, neonatal nurse and cabaret singer, accompanied by Dan de Fazio, and Anglican priest and former opera singer, Rev. Barbara Messner.

Themes are not intended to be impersonal reviews of specific social trends, however, nor are they restricted solely to the experiences of the ones presenting, but are meant to be meaningful for all attending. For example, at the October meeting, Father Stewart Frazer and daughter Catherine, both musicians, talked about the many family influences towards the development of spirituality, especially a love of music. Catherine, a celebrated Australian violinist, played many pieces, frequently questioning the audience about their reaction. One man remembered the sorrow following his daughter’s death.

The previous meeting, in September, appreciated the South Australian Governor General, Hieu Van Le’s, story of his escape to Australia by boat following the Vietnam War. His edge of fear prompted listeners to think of their moments when they experienced fear or insecurity, and to value their peaceful, carefree lifestyle.

Because of the 10th anniversary, the meeting on November 2 is unique. It begins as usual with the invitation to join the Pub’s buffet dinner from 6.00 pm, with people moving to the Function Room (entrance $5) at 7.20 pm for the two presentations. However from that point it widens to include a small group of former presenters, such as Rev Phillip Carter, former Retreat mentor Julian Centre, artist, architect and actor Denis Noble, Olympian Libby Kosmala, former Principal MacKillop College, Sr. Margaret Lamb RSJ, international aid worker Margaret Hess and others. Each only has a few minutes to address the theme. In between, there is the all important conversation. The pub has drinks and cheese platters on site to be purchased if desired, a marked contrast with former practice when no food was allowed. The usual closing time of 9.00 pm has been extended to 9.30 pm.

What Nairne means to me

by Di Franklin OAM, one of Nairne's daughters come home

My great-great-grandparents, James and Ann Bigmore, came to the Province of South Australia aboard the ship 'Violet' in 1856. They were from Cambridgeshire in England, and with them came their children from previous marriages, James' son Henry, aged 6, and Ann's son Samuel Marsh, aged 3.

James, Ann, Henry (Harry) and Sam set up their home in a stone house in the main road of Nairne, now known as 'Bigmore Cottage'. It is the old house next door to the Timmins home, now 'Upstairs Downstairs'. The house is still lived in, looking much like it probably would have in the 1850s. The old wooden post and rail fence, which I like to imagine James putting up, still stands. The old pine trees at the front were probably planted by the family.

Ann gave birth to a further nine children, although four died by the age of 2. My great-grandfather John was one of the surviving children who attended the (old) Nairne School, the church-like building next to the Chingari restaurant.

James was a butcher by trade, and had a shop in the building which, until recently, was 'Sophie's of Casamar' in the main street. His eldest son Henry joined him in the business, later marrying and setting up home in Little Nixon St in a house which is still lived in today.

James, Ann and four of their infant children are buried in the Nairne cemetery on Farquharson St. Their graves are currently unmarked, but we are trying to locate them, and my cousins and I plan to put in a memorial plaque to honour them.

One of my earliest memories is of my Grandpa Bigmore, James and Ann's grandson and my mother's father, showing me Bigmore Cottage where his father had been born.

Coincidentally, a few years ago I was told by one Mr Howard, a former teacher at Mt Barker High School and a good friend of my Dad, David Franklin, that the Franklin family lived in a house over the road from Bigmore Cottage when my Dad was young. A check of the records of Nairne Primary School revealed that my Dad did indeed attend school in the old building.

I grew up at Wistow, and my Mum was actively involved in researching the history of the area. As a young person, with Mum I visited Mick Murphy, a long time shop-owner in the main street of Nairne, on a number of occasions to gather historical information. There wasn't much Mick didn't know about the history of Nairne, and I found it fascinating to hear him talking about the people who lived in Nairne in past generations.

I remember when the 'Melbourne Express' (today's 'Overland' train) and the 'Blue Bird' train to Mt Gambier used to stop at the Nairne railway station, and on several occasions I caught trains there.

My daughter and her family also live in Nairne, and my grandchildren, like their Grandpa Franklin and Great-great-great Grandpa John Bigmore, attended Nairne Primary School, albeit in the now existing school on Saleyard Rd.

You could say my roots are well and truly in Nairne. When, four years ago, my husband (Trevor Corbell) and I were looking for a place to call home, Nairne was high on my list. Now Trevor loves the place as much as I do.

I must say I don't very much appreciate the new developments which seem to be going up everywhere we look. I can see the old Nairne village being replaced by a less unique town. I guess some development is inevitable, but we did manage to keep this beautiful little village a secret for a long time. The Nairne I love is gradually disappearing but, as long as I can go past Bigmore Cottage and remember how much this little building ties me to Nairne, my heart will always be here.

Checkmate! Nairne Primary School State C-grade Chess Champions.

By Leesa Shepherd (Nairne School Principal)

In September, the Nairne School Chess team, along with their coach and mentor, Helen Arbury-Smith, travelled to Adelaide to compete in the State Chess finals. The team, consisting of six students from Years 6 and 7, Riley, Olav, Noah, Tiang Cheng, Michael and Josh, made history by winning the C-grade competition in absolute style.

Many of the other schools in the competition have a long history of professional training and support. Our group started from very humble beginnings last year and this year has grown to two teams. The students practise after school and compete in Hills competition during the year.

Helen has a wonderfully contagious attitude to learning and trying new things. "Nothing is impossible if you set your mind to it." This has certainly rubbed off on the kids, and the looks on their faces when they realised they had won, was priceless. I am sure this will inspire lots of other children to give chess a go.

Nairne Primary School Pedal Prix

By Geoff Kay (Nairne School Counsellor)

Nairne's first year of competing in Pedal Prix was in 2004. That year we entered only one event – the 24 hour race. It was a baptism of fire for the riders.

We have competed in all races since. In 2005, we purchased a new bike and raced both until 2009 when, due to expenses and a decline in interested students, we decided to race just one bike.

Our decision to participate in Pedal Prix was fueled by many factors. We wanted to expose our students to an activity where they could push their personal limits (emotionally and physically) and yet still be part of a team. We also wanted to engage more parents in the school community. Our team is run by the parents of the riders, and each year they form a tight group of people focused on the team goals – to finish each race, to do the best we can and in the meantime have fun. Hence the name Synergy, which means “through cooperation we all can achieve success”

To our team, success is not necessarily measured by finishing positions. More importantly, it is the completion of races, and all members of the team attempting to do a little better each time they compete. Taking that into account we are very pleased that our team this year, after 3 races, finished 23rd in their category.

This year's team has 13 riders, boys and girls from years 4 – 7. We accept any student who wants to race. They just need to be keen and prepared to commit. Students really enjoy the experience because it is something that is not a traditional sport. It has an element of risk, speed and thrills. Whilst the bikes are built for safety, the chance of a crash or roll-over at speed is a reality. Injuries are rare, although scratches and bruises can occur. An incident on the track is carried as a badge of honour by team members.

Pedal Prix bikes are expensive, and with new safety standards each year a considerable amount of time and money is spent meeting these standards. The school, and the families involved, partially finance the team. Our biggest supporters however are the businesses in our community, who assist financially or by donating goods. This year we have been supported by Pedders Suspension Modbury, Australian Defence Forces, iSEEK Computers Nairne, The Uniform Shop, Upstairs Downstairs, The Mesh Men, Nairne Corner Takeaway, Nairne Markets, BankSA, Nairne Lions, and Nairne Complete Auto Care. We hope to have students participating in this great event for many years to come and are keen to welcome new members.

Nairne Red Cross

We had a very successful Zone Meeting in the Nairne Uniting Church Hall. The speakers from Red Cross House gave us a good idea of how migrants are assisted and how Red Cross helps find family members who are lost through war or other disasters. The entertainment by Suzanne Handel, principal harpist with the Adelaide Symphony Orchestra, and Jo-anne Sarre of Ink Pot Arts Inc. was superb.

We have a new member. She discovered us by going to the Disaster Training Course, held in Mount Barker. We are delighted that she has joined us.

Chingari dinner a huge success.

Jan and John Adcock would like to thank the Nairne community for their involvement in their August fundraising dinner at Chingari Restaurant. Over 90 people attended and enjoyed a 3 course Nepali banquet. Due to the restaurant being fully booked, there was a group of 10 who took theirs in takeaway to enjoy at home with friends!

Guests were not only provided with 5 star Nepali food but entertained by Jan's four Nepali friends who looked stunning in their traditional dress.

Special mention must be made to Kamal Verma for donating the whole evening to the Dhital Village Project and due to his overwhelming generosity $4192 was raised. This money will be donated towards the cost of constructing a community building which surrounding villages will be able to use for cultural and educational events. Thank you everyone.

Bushfire safety - Top 10 hints

1. Understand the environment in which you live - is your house surrounded by, or near, bush, grass or coastal scrub? Do you travel through, or plan to holiday in bushfire-prone areas?
2. Sit down with your family now and write a Bushfire Survival Plan - your life could depend on it. Download a copy of Your Guide To Preparing For And Surviving The Bushfire Season from the CFS website at www.cfs.sa.gov.au.
3. Make sure you understand, and are familiar with, the national Fire Danger Ratings and what those ratings mean for your family's Bushfire Survival Plan.
4. Practice your Bushfire Survival Plan with your whole family, including your strategies for dealing with stock or large pets such as horses.
5. Create and maintain as much defensible space as possible around your home by managing vegetation, including grass and shrubs.
6. Be aware that, should you plan to defend your home in accordance with Fire Danger Rating guidelines, you need to be physically capable and mentally prepared.
7. Take the time to put together your family's Bushfire Survival Kits, including a Relocation Kit and a Recovery Kit containing the things you'll need to survive in the first 24 to 48 hours after a bushfire. You'll find all the details and fact sheets on the CFS website – www.cfs.sa.gov.au.
8. Learn as much as you can about bushfire warnings and safety - visit www.cfs.sa.gov.au.
9. Update your home and contents insurance and leave a copy of your policies in a secure place away from your home.
10. Prepare. Act. Survive. Go to the CFS website for information – www.cfs.sa.gov.au.

A good plan:

- ♦ is prepared well before the Fire Danger Season and reviewed each year
- ♦ is written down, so that the details are to hand when you need them
- ♦ has been practiced, so you know how it will go on the day
- ♦ is created with the whole family and covers everyone, including the young and elderly and includes what to do:
 - o before the Fire Danger Season
 - o on a Total Fire Ban day
 - o during a bushfire
 - o after a bushfire
- ♦ can adapt to unforeseen circumstances.
