Four years ago I visited Sheffield, in Tasmania. It is a small town in the middle of nowhere and the only real jobs are vegetable growing. Young people were leaving the town in droves. The town was dying and then someone had the bright idea to erect Historic Murals all over the town and see if it would attract visitors. The rest, as they say, is history. Sheffield is now a thriving community. There are at least six restaurants, B&B facilities everywhere, shops and small businesses all over the town.

I came home and looked at Nairne where the shops and cafes frequently change hands. Here, I thought, we live in the oldest town in the Hills and it has been forgotten. The place is full of history and yet no-one knows about it. That began a train of thought. What if we could tell our story in murals?

NAIRNE AND DISTRICTS RESIDENTS ASSOCIATION (NDRA)

By Jenni Adams

In spite of the wintery weather, we had a fantastic turn out to the AGM and the General Meeting this month. 10 people attended at 6.30 pm to meet the North Ward Councillors but unfortunately none of them were able to attend, and sent apologies. This was of course disappointing but NDRA will continue to promote a unified voice for the community. In future we will invite councillors at 7pm, which may be easier for all concerned – followed by the general meeting at 7.30 pm on alternate months. The next meeting is 20th October at the Nairne Institute.

Nine new members joined us this month which is good news indeed and it is great to see the enthusiasm of Nairne residents working together. The new look Nairne News has been a fabulous vehicle for promoting membership, with many people joining via this link. Huge thanks to Cathy Smallridge for editing and to Jo Parkinson for proofreading. The colour photography has really added to the appeal – thanks to Leanne Osmond of Leeophotography for the lovely photo in the last issue. Leanne spoke at the meeting this month and showed us more of her beautiful photographs. In October, Jo-Anne Sarre will speak on Ink Pot Arts, of which she is Artistic Director. This promises to be an exciting expose of a successful local business. Speaking of which – I encourage you to promote your own business initiatives and at the same time support your community by advertising in your local newsletter, and please consider presenting at the NDRA general meetings.

The mural project continues with Liz Hirstle putting in huge amounts of work both in practical aspects and funding applications to support the initiative. Congratulations to Liz on her fabulous SALA presentations at Howard's Winery. Big thanks also to Richard Hirstle who is putting together a fantastic new website for NDRA – check out how it looks on the back page – lots of new and exciting initiatives coming!

All in all this has been a really exciting time for the Nairne community. If you haven't already joined your local representative organisation, please consider doing so. You can join via the membership form (next page) – and we would love to meet you!

Thank you for supporting your community through buying this edition and we really look forward to meeting you soon.

The carbon cost of producing this newsletter for one year has been estimated using the calculator on www.carbonneutral.com.au, and a payment has been made to offset estimated carbon emissions.

Editor's Note

By Cathy Smallridge

We have had some wonderful feedback on the new format of the Nairne News. Thankyou all for your encouragement! I am also really delighted with the way our local businesses and community groups are making the time to help out by providing articles and ads. Your input is greatly appreciated, as are the invaluable skills of our volunteer proofreader, Joanna Parkinson, and our treasurer, Therese Okkerse.

The new website (www.nairne.org.au) promises to be a very valuable tool for both the local community and prospective visitors. Previous issues of the Nairne News will also be archived there. However, if you would like to receive each Nairne News by email at the time it is published (pdf file in full colour), please join the Association using the adjacent membership application form.

If you have any comments or suggestions, please send them to nairnenews@hotmail.com.

MT BARKER COUNCIL ELECTIONS - THE NAIRNE PERSPECTIVE

Once again, local government (Council) elections are nearly upon us. As a resident of Nairne or otherwise living in the 5252 postal code area, you have an interest in seeing that our town remains firmly in focus when the District Council of Mt Barker decides on matters affecting our community. The incoming Council will be elected for four years commencing this November. The elections will be decided on 13 November.

Residents will recall that a 'Meet your Candidates' public forum in Nairne just before the last elections in 2006 proved very popular. That meeting, held in the Soldiers' Memorial Hall in Main Street, proved to be a 'standing room only' affair!

The Nairne & District Residents Association (NDRA) is again planning a 'Meet your Candidates' public forum for the 2010 elections. A specific date is still to be settled, but at the moment we are looking at the week 18 - 22 October. That will be before the next issue of 'Nairne News', but posters will be displayed around Nairne and an advertisement placed in The Courier newspaper closer to the time.

Candidates for the four North Ward positions on Council and for the office of Mayor will be invited. This will give candidates an opportunity to put their case for election as our direct representatives, and for you to ask questions of them before you make up your mind on who you vote for.

Voting for Council is postal and voluntary. A mail-out of voting packs to electors will take place between Monday 25 and Friday 29 October. You will need to have your vote received by the returning officer by 5:00 pm on Friday 12 November for it to be counted.

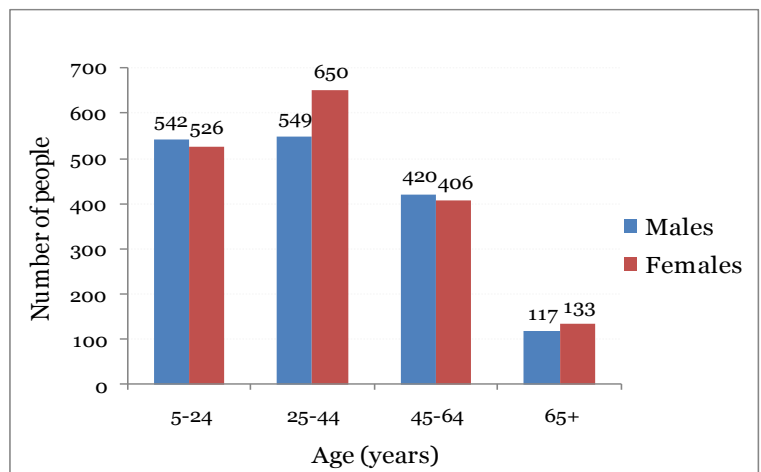

Remember! This is your chance to make up your mind about who you would want to represent you on Council. Keep your eyes open for more information about the public forum.

Nairne—a statistical snapshot

By Cathy Smallridge

In considering plans for future development in the Nairne area, it is essential to have a reliable picture of the make-up of the community. A community profile document aims to present a snapshot of a community, describing, for example, the age distribution, culture, health, education, housing and employment aspects of the community. Data relating to these factors can be accessed from the Australian Bureau of Statistics website, and can be embellished with data from other sources. At the last census (2006), there were 3647 people living in Nairne, and the population was biased towards the younger age groups with 37% of people under 25 years, 33% of people in the 20-year span between 25 – 44 years, and only 30% of people over 45.

The next census will be in August 2011. It will be interesting to see how Nairne has changed in five years. If you have an interest in assisting with the development of a community profile for Nairne, please contact us on ndra@live.com.au. A community profile has the potential to help inform and guide development directions for Nairne.

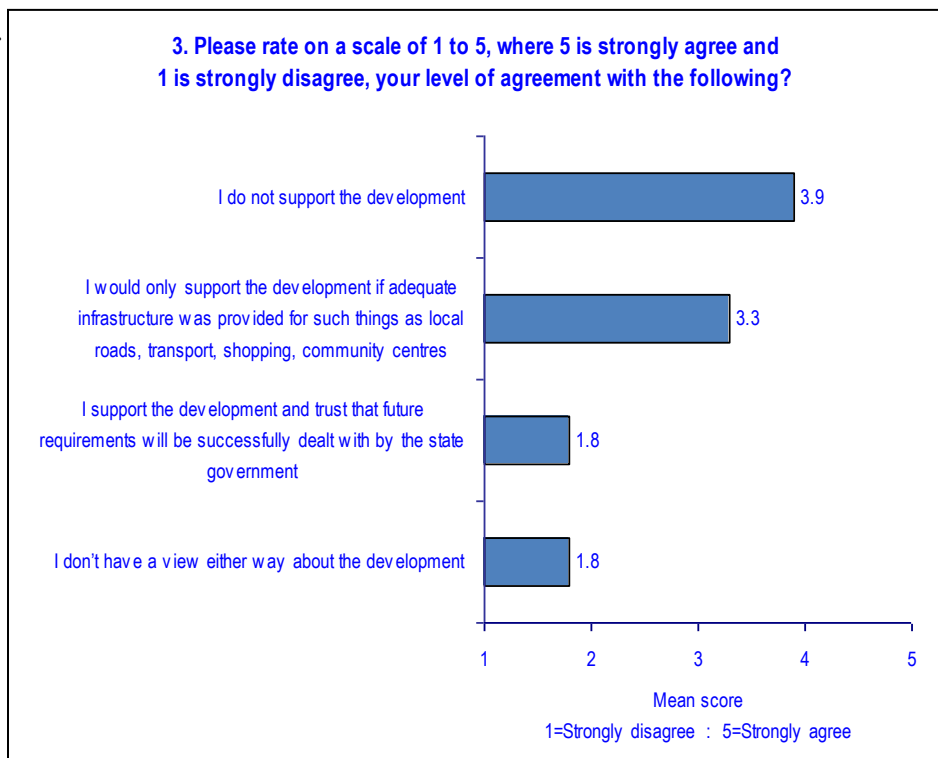

District Council of Mt Barker

Phone poll results on DPA

A phone survey of a sample of the District Council of Mt Barker's residents was conducted on July 28th 2010. The results are available in a report on the Council's website: <http://www.dcmtbarker.sa.gov.au/site/page.cfm?u=113&c=9543>

According to the report, a relatively high level of agreement (see graph, right) was recorded for "I do not support the development" (average rating of 3.9, with 66% agreed).

Sustainable House Design— free seminars

The District Council of Mount Barker, in conjunction with Atelier: Urban + Environmental, will be presenting a series of three (3) seminars on sustainable house design.

If you are looking to build a new home or improve the environmental performance of an existing home, these seminars will offer valuable advice.

> Seminar 1: Design for climate. 7 pm Wednesday 1 September

> Seminar 2: Energy considerations, materials, systems and design. 7 pm Wednesday 8 September

> Seminar 3: Water use, storage and treatment. 7 pm Wednesday 15 September

Seminars are free, open to the public, and will run for approximately two hours. Seminars will be held in the Council Chambers of the District Council of Mount Barker, Homemaker Centre, 6 Dutton Road, Mount Barker.

For more information and bookings please contact Greg Sarre by phone 8391 7257 or email: gsarre@dcmtbarker.sa.gov.au

Paddock to Plate — Fresh is best.

By Vince Minervini,

Mount Barker Chop Shop (Richard Gunner's Fine Meats)

You may have heard the phrase “Paddock to Plate” before, but what does it actually mean? Essentially, Paddock to Plate is a process where all elements of creating a product, right from the farmer through to the retail butcher shop, are controlled entirely by the same business. There are many advantages of this process which, in the end, benefits you as the end consumer.

Paddock to Plate allows the middle men to be cut out of the process, which means that businesses that are involved in aspects such as wholesale and distribution are removed completely. The effect of this is that the product is delivered to the retail butcher store in a much quicker timeframe, which results in a fresher product becoming available to consumers.

The freshness of a meat product is one of the key features of delivering a great product time and time again. Elements such as increased flavour and tenderness are maintained when you receive the product in a shorter timeframe. Richard Gunner's Fine Meats, trading as The Chop Shop at Mount Barker and Feast! Fine Foods in metropolitan Adelaide, believe in the Paddock to Plate approach which is currently implemented at all our retail stores. If you haven't already experienced this approach, we look forward to changing your view on eating meat forever.

Happy Eating!

What's special about honey?

Bees collect food for their colony, namely a sweet liquid from flowers called nectar and a powdery plant protein called pollen. To turn nectar into honey, the bees dehydrate the nectar and mix it with enzymes from glands on their body. Many thousands of types of plants produce nectar and pollen, so potentially there are many thousands of types of honey. Honey is made up of natural plant sugars (80%), moisture (17%) and minerals (3%).

Bees also help to grow many foods we eat by pollinating flowers and causing them to turn into fruits and vegetables. Without bees, many trees and flowers would not make fruit, nuts or seeds.

Honey can be seen as a tasty and nutritious natural replacement for sugar. It is an ingredient in nougat, chocolate products, biscuits, cakes, baked desserts, fruit bars and snacks. Honey can be used to add flavour, colour and sweetener in any food or drink where sugar is used. Think, banana smoothie, muesli, yoghurt and a drizzle of honey for breakfast; pancakes with honey and lemon; warm milk and honey drink with a dash of fresh cinnamon to send you off to sleep. Honey is a great simple spread for bread, toast, baguettes and croissants.

When reviewing our year, the Rams had an okay season with 4 out of the 5 teams playing finals footy. But overall where are we at? Our juniors are travelling well and player numbers are great. And off field has been a great success. To be truly successful, the Rams requires sacrifices & a group of people prepared to make a commitment to pave the way for the future. We are on the verge of being a fantastic club and it is now more than ever we need your help.

The essential elements to having a magical and successful environment at the club is that we build a positive and committed culture. This starts by having a greater number of volunteers to share the workload. Our ultimate goal is to get more volunteers helping out in all areas of the club, to ensure Nairne Bremer United Football Club is a premier sporting club in the Adelaide Hills. By doing this, we are sharing the workload and reducing the amount of commitment required by each individual. If you can help and have passion for our club then please contact Bronte on 0404 025 761. We ask all supporters to consider how they can help in 2011.

Our AGM will be held on Wednesday 27th October at 7.30pm. We encourage all supporters and members of the club to attend. If you have colleagues and friends who might be interested then bring them along, everyone's welcome.

The future looks bright at the rams!

Obviously our Juniors are extremely important and are the future of our Club. We have some outstanding talent coming through with all 3 sides (U13, U15, U17) making the finals. We need to harness their enthusiasm and energy for future success. Those involved have done an outstanding job in 2010 and we look forward to developing a junior department in 2011.

The new Life Members BBQ Pergola has been a great success. To complete this project we are working on installing roller shutters so the volunteers are well sheltered from the winter weather. The new playground has been erected and is entertaining many kids each Saturday.

Finally, in consultation with the cricket club and oval committee, we are working towards reconstructing the main oval while at the same time building a new second oval. This will be the biggest project the sporting clubs have been involved in, but is something that we really need.

I'd like to say a very big thank you to all our sponsors for 2010. The Nairne Market has been our major sponsor again this year together with Pak-Rite. Please remember to support all of our sponsors (refer our website - www.nairnerams.com) and let them know you're from the RAMS.

The story of the Nairne Historic Mural Project

With funds raised locally, and with the help of Mount Barker Council, we now have the project underway. Over the next three years there will be another 10 murals placed around the town and a full colour brochure produced to lead visitors from the first to the last mural, taking in many historic buildings along the way. In addition to the brochure we are organising a new website, so people all over the world will be able to visit Nairne online.

In the next five years, all the power lines will be placed underground and the town will take on a heritage feel. With the structure in place, Nairne will be a great place to live, shops will gain plenty of new business and encourage those empty premises to open with exciting sales prospects. A new buzz will bring yet more new ideas and we should see new clubs for the children and for adults too. An exciting time ahead for Nairne!

Heysen Festival at Hahndorf

This festival is held throughout Hahndorf in recognition of renowned artist Hans Heysen's peerless cultural contribution to the Hills. The celebrations coincide with the anniversary of the birth of Sir Hans Heysen on October 8th and will feature an expanded line-up of exciting artistic talent, activities and performances for nine days.

Puppet shows and craft projects

Head Heart and Hands Imaginative Play is a children's shop specialising in 100% natural fibre toys and craft materials. Situated in the Main Street of Nairne opposite the Nairne Institute, people travel from all over Adelaide to experience the unique products and atmosphere of Head Heart and Hands, especially on Stargold Puppet Show days when the shop is buzzing with live music and wonderful craft projects, nourishing the children's imaginations.

There are Puppet Shows every school holidays and some weekends, but we are usually booked out, so booking early is essential. Craft projects such as Making Mermaids from beautiful coloured felting fleece and Making Knights and Dragons with coloured beeswax are always popular projects for 6 year olds and older. For the under-five year olds we can offer a free, 10 minute activity on request to experience some of the unique craft materials we have in stock.

There are a lot of beautiful homespun qualities about 'The Hills' and one of these is the weekly community yoga classes offered for the last two years at the Nairne Institute. Yoga is an individual practice that, when shared in a group, becomes a very supportive and nurturing experience; people coming together to create a special atmosphere.

Much has been spoken about yoga and it has emerged into our modern world without being unduly modified; it is taught in Sanskrit for this reason. Poses are based on natural aspects of living elements of nature and movements of animals, like dog pose, tree pose, mountain pose and warrior pose. These natural forms work on the organic body as we move in all directions in relation to the earth, alternating between extensions and contractions and the squeezing of joints, ligaments and muscles. All these combinations of experiences help loosen, straighten and strengthen the posture, and work on the deeper layers of the body, bathing the body with a good blood flow, stimulating and toning organs, nerves and glands. As we bring our full attention to the direction, form and purpose of the pose, thoughts are suspended, body, mind, breath and mood are integrated. The quality of the pose has shifted our awareness towards becoming calm and clear. The body itself has experienced a qualitative change.

This type of guidance and focus allows the individual to work within their own capabilities and needs, yoga being non-competitive. The foundation yoga practice is based on the cultivation of good posture and body awareness, mobility and relaxation and the conscious regulation of good breathing patterns. All of these help create a feeling of ease and stability in the body and a habit of breathing that is long and smooth. Allowing the body to breathe well, we access a true vacation for the mind.

Yoga services within 'The Hills' are growing, offering classes within your local community. Loretta Voivodich teaches yoga at the Nairne Institute but is not limited to this location. She teaches to children in primary and high schools; at present she is teaching "Yoga in Maths" to Year 8 students, highlighting the practical application of geometry within the poses. She also brings a service to more remote areas such as combined parent and child classes on Wednesday mornings in Callington.

Loretta has had seven years full-time experience of delivering yoga within the workplace and offers the service of lunchtime or after work classes, with equipment supplied. Interest in yoga from schools and for teenagers most welcome.

"...tree pose, mountain pose, and warrior pose. These natural forms work on the organic body as we move in all directions in relation to the earth...."

The Active Cognitive Enhancement program

A gym for the mind

Alzheimer's Australia SA has launched an exciting new program to encourage South Australians to reduce their risk of developing dementia and is now heading for the hills. The Active Cognitive Enhancement (ACE) program is a multi-dimensional cognitive training program designed to enhance a range of abilities including visual and verbal memory, attention and concentration, speed of processing and problem solving in people aged 55 and over.

Today we know that the brain retains lifelong plasticity (the ability to change itself through experience). Ageing does not mean automatic decline. Furthermore we know that a variety of lifestyle factors, including physical and mental exercise, can influence how our mental abilities evolve as we age. We also now know that changes in our brains that result in dementia may start many decades before symptoms actually appear. Just as healthy lifestyle habits play an important part of reducing the risk of developing heart disease and diabetes there is evidence to suggest that brain healthy lifestyle habits may also have a role to play in reducing dementia.

The brain is composed of many different areas that focus on different things. Doing a crossword puzzle only activates a small part of the brain. The 3 key principles for good brain exercises are: novelty, variety and constant challenge. The ACE program, a ten-session group mental fitness training program incorporates a variety of challenging mental exercises, along with training in a number of memory strategies. It includes practical lifestyle information on how to maximise brain health, and an introduction to a range of relaxation techniques.

The ACE program will be running in October at the Adelaide Hills Council Chamber, 36 Nairne Road Woodside. If you would like to register your interest in the program please contact the National Dementia Helpline on 1800 100 500.

Relay for Life

The Adelaide Hills Relay for Life will be held on November 13/14 at the Mt. Barker Oval. By forming a team of 10-15 people, participants can make a difference by raising money to go towards valuable cancer research, patient support and awareness education. All members of the community and fellow supporters are welcome to be part of the celebration of life and tribute to people living with cancer. In a fun and carnival-like atmosphere, the event holds a survivors walk and also a candlelight vigil in memory of those who have been lost to this disease.

To register a team or find out more about the event, contact The Cancer Council SA on 8291 4111 or visit their website www.relayforlife.org.au.

LIONS ACTIVE IN THE DISTRICT

On Thursday 5th August a working party of Lions members installed two bench seats in the park in the main street of Kanmantoo. We also removed an old seat which was originally installed approximately twenty years ago.

This working party was the final episode of the Nairne & Districts current Park Seat Maintenance Programme.

Over many years, dating back to the club's charter in May of 1978, Lions have supplied and installed benches and seats in parks throughout our district, taking in areas of Callington, Kanmantoo, Harrogate, Brukunga, Mt. Barker Summit and Nairne. Thirty units in total, requiring regular maintenance or replacement due to vandalism, or simply outliving their use-by date.

We have an ongoing commitment to the railway station site and have commenced a repainting programme which of late has been hampered by the inclement weather.

Nairne Primary School Soccer Club

The Nairne Primary School Junior Soccer Club, or the Nairne Knights, has been running for three seasons now. It enters teams for all primary school aged children in the Adelaide Hills Junior Soccer Association leagues. Although the club is run through the governing council of the school, players don't have to attend the school to take part. In fact, everyone is welcome regardless of ability. The club is all about young people playing sport in a team and having fun.

This season we have had about 80 children and young people playing soccer. We entered three teams in the non-competitive age groups (Under 8's, Under 9's, and Under 10's), and two teams in the competitive leagues (Under 11's and Under 12's). In addition, we had for the first time, an all-girls Under 11's team, and a development squad for younger children to have a go. All of the players have been a credit to their school and have represented their community well.

It is now nearly the end of the 2010 season – registrations for 2011 start as soon as school goes back next year, so look out for more information closer to the time. For more information contact Andy Buchmann c/o Nairne Primary School.

Time to Clean up for Summer

IDENTIFYING HAZARDS AROUND YOUR HOME

Burning debris is carried by strong winds that accompany bushfires. These sparks and embers may enter your home through small openings such as vents, or may be large enough to break windows and ignite curtains and furniture etc. They may also settle on flammable material outside your home causing a small fire (spot fire) to start. If this fire happens to be on your wooden deck, doormat or woodpile, it may eventually grow large enough to destroy your home. Walk around your home and identify the potential problem areas.

REDUCE THE AMOUNT OF FLAMMABLE MATERIAL AROUND THE HOME

All flammable material that is within 20 metres of your house should be removed. This includes removal of dead branches, fallen leaves and cutting long grass. On a slope greater ground clearance is desirable.

In order to reduce the threat to your house you should:

- Remove dry undergrowth and grass from around the home and buildings.
- Prepare a 20 metre fire protection zone around the home to reduce the danger from radiant heat and sparks.
- Establish a landscaped garden or vegetable garden, mow lawns, build wide paths, paving or driveways that can provide fuel breaks.
- Chemically treat the area around outbuildings and sheds to prevent the regrowth of vegetation.
- Cut back trees overhanging the roof and regularly remove leaves from the gutters.
- Remove flammable growth from around the base of trees.
- Prune lower tree limbs to provide a vertical firebreak to prevent ground fire spreading into trees.
- Provide space between trees and shrubs to remove the continuous line of vegetation to the house.
- Remove bark and wooden sleepers from areas in the garden near the house.
- Store flammable fuels and chemicals away from the house and secure in an enclosed shed
- Clear all dry grass and bark mulch well away from the house.

SPARK PROOF THE HOUSE AND BUILDINGS

To protect your house, it is vital that you prevent sparks and burning material from entering through windows, under doors and/or under floor boards. This can be achieved by:

- Fitting metal fly wire mesh or solid screens to spark proof the windows, doors, ventilators and skylights.
- Close all openings in eaves and under-floor areas.
- Sealing all gaps in the roof area along the ridge cap, gutter line and fascia board.
- Extending wall cladding on buildings and sheds to the ground.
- Sealing the flute spaces at the fascia board with fibreglass insulation or scribed flat metal with corrugated iron roofs.
- Tiled roofs require an appropriate fire rated insulation (sarking) immediately below the tiles

ROOFING

Most homes ignite when sparks or burning embers blow under tiles and start burning roofing timbers or accumulated litter. Metal roofing offers more protection provided it is firmly secured and sealed around vents, skylights, fascias and roof caps.

UNDERFLOOR

Underfloor areas that are not enclosed allow sparks and embers to penetrate. If these areas are used to store timber, firewood, or other flammable materials, the risk is compounded. Make sure that underfloor areas are kept clear of flammable material during summer.

WINDOWS AND VENTS

Crevice where embers can collect are potential ignition points. Cracks under doors, on window ledges, windows, or along verandahs are particularly vulnerable. Vents into the house structure are also common entry points for sparks. They should be covered in fine wire mesh to prevent embers from getting into walls, roof cavity areas or through windows.

Sustainable House Day - September 12, 2010

Eden Valley poured earth house, opening for Sustainable House Day.

If you want to save money on your power bills there is no better way than visiting one of the over 200 properties opening around the country as part of Sustainable House Day, Sunday 12th September.

Colin & Vicki's property at Macclesfield is one of the homes opening who have managed to reduce their power bills to an average of $100/quarter.

If you're thinking about improving your home's energy, water or waste management efficiency, speaking to homeowners about their own experiences is a must.

Seeing real sustainable projects in action, and learning what worked well and not so well, will help save you time and money.

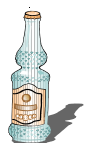

There will be plenty of information available on the day, with architects, builders and energy auditors on hand at many of the homes to provide you with expert tips on sustainable living.

And let's not forget the garden. Many of the houses feature fantastic water-wise, organic, or permaculture gardens. So whatever your interest, be it gardens or more structural retrofits to new builds, there are sure to be many inspirational ideas to adapt to your home.

Sustainable House Day is presented by Solar Shop Australia with entry to the houses free.

For house locations and more details visit www.sustainablehouseday.com

If you can't make it on the day, you can get great information on the social networking site for Sustainable House Day, www.shmeco.com. You can interact with owners and share what you are doing with others.

Open Garden Scheme Special Event

Sustainable Landscapes at the Baghurst Garden, Port Elliott. Saturday 11th and Sunday 12th September 2010. (No bookings required).

Winner of the Sustainable Landscapes Native Gardens Award for Best Home Garden, this is the perfect example of a well-designed, sustainable and climate-compatible garden.

Following the contours of the landscape, the Baghurst garden enhances the modern architecture of the sustainable home and frames breathtaking views of the coastline.

Sweeping garden beds are planted with a wide diversity of native shrubs, groundcovers and grasses surviving on natural and harvested rainwater.

Experts from the Adelaide Botanic Gardens Sustainable Landscapes Program will lead walks and talks around the garden at 11.30 am and 1.30 pm.

Address: Lot 10 Heysen Rd, Port Elliot
Directions: UBD 304:P12. From Adelaide take Victor Harbor Rd; before Victor Harbor turn left into Waterport Rd, left into Heysen Rd (northern continuation of Brickyard Rd). Open: 10 am-4.30 pm. $8.00 entry fee, no charge for children under 18.

Tickletank, 24 Hill St, Mount Barker, Saturday 9th and Sunday 10th October 2010

Artist Irene Pearce's intimate and adventurous multi-level garden surrounds a house made from a converted water storage tank. Garden art, mosaics and sculptures made from recycled materials. Colourful array of spring bulbs, hardy natives and cottage plants. New mosaic driveway. Devonshire Teas available all day. Open: 10 am — 4.30 pm. $6.00.

Buccleuch, 28 Burnbank Way, Mount Barker, Saturday 30th and Sunday 31st October, 2010.

Water-wise plants, rainwater tanks and other water-saving schemes ensure the continued abundance of this immaculate award-winning garden. Discoveries are numerous: a gazebo overlooking crab apples, weeping cherries, roses, a frog pond and an embankment of cottage perennials in a tapestry of colour. Bagpipes playing in the garden. Open: 10 am — 4.30 pm. $6.00.

These are just a few of the gardens that will be on display this Spring and Summer. For more information on Australia's Open Garden Scheme, visit the website www.opengarden.org.au, or Email national@opengarden.org.au.

Bush For Life will be holding workshops in the following locations: Belair on September 18, Mt Barker on October 12, and Stirling on November 5. For more details log onto our website

Community Life

Want to be a driver for Hills Community Transport?

Enjoy helping others? Want to make a difference?

Enjoy driving?

Did you know?

According to the 2006 census, 667 Nairne residents over the age of 15 years were volunteers. That's nearly 25% of the population in that age group!

Thanks a million.

Vacancies currently exist for volunteers to join Hills Community Transport (HCT), to assist eligible clients with their transport needs, helping people to improve and maintain their quality of life.

Dedicated volunteers are required to transport the frail, aged, disabled and other transport disadvantaged to medical appointments, shopping and social activities within the Adelaide Metro and Adelaide Hills Region. Vehicles are provided, and HCT can offer flexible working days.

A current drivers licence is required, along with a commitment to undertake the Volunteer Driver Accreditation Program. Accreditation costs will be paid by HCT. The ability to interact with people from all walks of life and offer empathy, understanding and patience are important to this role. Contact Marisa, 8391 7234, for more information.

Winter has been good to Nairne Market!

It has been a long, long winter, and if the current weather is anything to go by, it appears it could be even longer yet!! Sales have been steady and we are pleased to be able to continue to supply good quality, clean second-hand winter woollies to our valued customers!!

There are good specials at the moment in the shop, with skirts priced at 2 for $1, ladies & men's pants/slacks at 1/2 price and ladies jackets are also 1/2 price. Keep a good eye on the Market in the next few weeks, because there will be lots of different specials coming up between now and the "change over" (to spring & summer wear) in late September/early October.

PLEASE NOTE! Until further notice, the shop is no longer open on Saturday afternoons.

Without volunteers to work in the shop, or sorting clothes in the back room, the Market would not be able to function as well as it does. But with an ageing population, it is not always easy to maintain a good number of volunteers. The management of the Market would welcome enquiries by people willing to offer their services for a few hours a week or fortnight or even once a month. We are a friendly bunch and enjoy meeting new people.

Once again, staff & management offer thanks to the Nairne community and far beyond for your continued support of this wonderful enterprise. Without you, the customers, we would not be able to maintain our worthwhile level of giving back to this community.

Nairne website re-design

Don't forget to check out the new Nairne homepage design (back page and www.nairne.org.au). On the left of the page, there are links to information to encourage prospective visitors to spend some time in our town. On the right, there are links to information and services for the local community. Innovative ideas include the "Rent me" and "Swap shop" sections which will facilitate local networking and exchanges of goods and services. There is also a link to past editions of the Nairne News, in case you lose your printed copy! So check out the website, and let us know what you think with an email to ndra@live.com.au.

Creative Communities—Ink Pot Arts in the Adelaide Hills.

We hope you will be able to make it to the next general meeting of the Nairne and Districts Residents Association on Wednesday 20th October 2010 at the Nairne Institute, Main St, Nairne.

7 pm, talk to your local councillors about any issues relating to life in Nairne

7.30 pm, our speaker will be Jo-anne Sarre, Artistic Director of Ink Pot Arts, and she will speak on Creative Communities – Ink Pot Arts in the Adelaide Hills. Jo-anne will be sharing an overview of the company's vision for cultural development in the district.

The new park on Woodside Road is finished. It has numerous features including a lake, a rotunda, play areas, an amphitheatre with a stage and more. The District Council of Mount Barker developed the park with input from Nairne residents.

The Nairne Heritage Mural project sets out to display, in highly visible form, the history of the town and its early residents. It is planned to create around 25 murals distributed along the Main Street each of which will depict, in the main, an activity which occurred at the mural location in the early days.
